Dear Families

I thought I would write to you before you receive your child's Pupil Progress Report, as it may read a bit oddly.

Over the last two years we have been tracking our children under the new National Curriculum using points. These points show your child's progress against the National Curriculum objectives, learning in the classroom and summative assessments. We noticed at the end of last year that our points were not quite right so at the beginning of this year we re-set the points. We have now (well, Trent our Data Consultant has) created a points calculator tracking both the objectives covered and the average FLiC points awarded (FLiC is our data programme).

This may mean that your child's points may have gone down, up or stayed the same. We did consider not sending the reports home, but we really want to see if the new points system will work over several assessment periods. Please bear with us as we develop our system. It will need tweaking until we feel that it is right.

Do pop in and talk with your child's class teacher or myself if you are at all worried.

Kind regards

Caroline Sice
